Membership Information

The club is open to Boeing employees, retirees and their spouses or dependents. In addition, government, customer, vendor, and contract employees are also eligible. Membership in the NRA is not required for membership in the EGC - however, only NRA members are eligible to vote in club officer elections

Applicants may join at anytime. Membership is valid for 1 year. The renewal deadline is January 1st.

Visit the EGC website (beegc.org) and download the Membership Form. Complete the form and mail with payment to the address shown on the form.

Join Now !

Join now to get the most out of owning your firearm. Beginners are especially welcome as the EGC can teach the skills necessary to safely own and operate your firearm. For the more accomplished shooter, the club offers great opportunities to expand your firearm knowledge and experience. Whether you want more training, shooting events, or simply to meet new friends, the EGC can fulfill your needs. Contact a club officer if interested, or better yet, attend a meeting and meet the members yourself. We hope to see you there !

Club Meetings

Club meetings are held monthly at 5:30PM. Check the club website for exact dates and locations. Meetings typically last about one hour, sometimes longer if we have a guest speaker.

Training

The club offers training and education courses for both pistol and rifle. Each course is taught by NRA certified instructors and club training staff. For complete course listings, descriptions, schedules, and pricing, visit the club website.
